FRANCES PERATT

Frances, a sophomore, and Harry, a senior, were selected as most versatile young people on the campus by a committee of four faculty members. The committee, selected by the Raconteur staff, were

Miss Mary Page Milton, registrar, who acted as chairman; Dr. W. H. Vaughn, dean of the College; Miss Ella O. Wilkes, geography instructor; and W. C. Lippin, director of Breckinridge Training School.

MARTHA ESTILL

A student's popularity can best be judged, we thought, by his fellow-students—those with whom he must traffic daily and to whom he must necessarily disclose his true nature. Thus, we passed out ballots, in a surprise move, at convocation one morning.

Succeeding vote-counting revealed that Martha, a junior, had for the second consecutive year, captured the vote of popularity, and "Buck," a senior, had won the popular boy vote by a wide margin over his nearest opponent.

HELEN PACK

Seven young men, composing a committee, selected Helen, a sophomore, as the prettiest girl on the campus. They based their conclusion on what they termed a "natural" prettiness. Members of the committee were Roy Bailey, Custer Reynolds, Robert Elam, Thomas Havens, James Ishmael, Charles Thomas, and Thomas Fearing.

A group of seven girls chose Custer, a senior, as the most handsome man student. Committee members were Virginia Harpham, Marie Miller, Ione Bays, Betty Kirk, Dorothy Caudill, Ann Gandy, and Martha Lewis.

Student Who's Who

This year, in collaboration with Clarence E. Nickell, dean of men, the above students were selected by a committee of faculty members to represent Morehead in the publication, "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

A Who's Who student must have a combination of qualities in leadership, extra-curricular activities, athletics, society, religion, student government, character, scholarship, and potentialities of future usefulness to business and society.

ATHLETICS

ASSISTANT COACH MILLER AND COACH JOHNSON

Johnson and Miller, coach and assistant coach respectively, are gentlemen, scholars, inseparable friends, and the finest two-man-coaching combination in the nation. That is what Moreheadians firmly believe.

This pair of aces came to Morehead in the fall of 1936 to guide Morehead's athletic destiny. The success of their efforts is told by the phenomenal record compiled by Blue and Gold teams during the past three years.

Above is an action shot of a Morehead back being pulled down after a substantial gain against Lawrence Tech (Detroit, Mich.) in the season's grid opener.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Morehead's vaunted Blue and Gold clad Eagles won five, lost one and tied one in a comparatively easy seven-game schedule—easy because opposition for the Johnsonmen was hard to find.

FOOTBALL

Morehead's 1938 football edition opened its schedule with a 76 to 0 victory over a much heavier Lawrence Tech aggregation on the home sod at Jayne Memorial Stadium September 24.

The Eagles continued their high-scoring march the following week-end, dumping an out-classed Alfred Holbrook Dinosaur into a 58 to 0 oblivion.

On October 8, in the third game of the season for the high flying Eagles, Murray, sister institution to Morehead, invaded the Blue and Gold stronghold to administer the single Johnsonmen defeat, 14 to 0.

After an idle week the Blue and Gold took to the road for the first time during the season to play Eastern's Maroons at Richmond. Eastern, strong and, though the Eagles were continually knocking at the goal, managed to escape with a 0 to 0 deadlock.

A trifle angry with themselves for their showing against Eastern, the Eagles bore down on Georgetown's Tigers in the Homecoming Day Classic and clawed out a 58 to 0 victory.

In the closing fracas of the season, an Armistice Day clash staged at Ashland, (Ky.), Morehead walked all over a decidedly inferior Central Indiana College eleven 57 to 0.

Honor Roll Call: Horton, Marzetti, Hammonds, Fair, Varney, Adams, Reynolds, and Lowman.

John "Buck" Horton: Captain for two successive years, All KIAC two years, '37 and '38, and the only man to sport the Blue and Gold of Morehead to win a place on any Little All-American aggregation.

Lawrence "Lot" Marzetti: Co-Captain along with Horton in '38, honorable mention for Little All-American, All-SIAA, and All-KIAC member, one of those hard-fighting individuals who never say die and who, through sheer grit and determination, wins in the battles of life.

Frenchy "Sped" Hammonds: One of those rare, good little men heard of so often and seldom seen. All-KIAC member!

Beverly "Jug" Varney: The nation's most outstanding sophomore—garnered enough points in seven games to grab third high-scoring honors in the entire country. All-KIAC and potential Little All-American!

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Bobby Laughlin, in his second year as frosh mentor, turned in a very commendable job.

His proteges took one of the best yearling aggregations assembled at Transylvania in many a year for a 12 to 6 ride and gave the University of Cincinnati first year men all they could handle while succumbing 28 to 12.

Lack of reserves, chiefly wingmen, led to the Eaglets' downfall.

Laughlin says that among his charges are several who are destined to make history as members of future Blue and Gold aggregations.

COACH ELLIS JOHNSON

VARSITY

Ellis Johnson, in his three years as head of Morehead's athletic destiny, has taken two Blue and Gold quintets to the semi-finals of the SIAA tournament before being nosed out.

In 1937 the Johnsonmen finished with the best record of any basketball outfit in the state. That was the year Arnzen thrilled crowds and chilled opponents. That, too, was the first year, under Johnson, that the Eagles participated in the tournament. Last year it was no dice; the Eagles did not have enough to get there, and this year . . .

First Row: Williamson, Stiner, Horton, Kirk, Barr, Gant, Kiser

BASKETBALL

The Eagles started slow but showed great potentiality. Under Johnson's skillful handling the ragged group began to take on polish, but at times failed to apply what they had learned.

JAMES "UNK" GANT

To the right is a picture of James "Unk" Gant, one of the best basketballers to grace the Morehead hardwood since the mighty Arnzen was making the sphere speak softly but extremely distinct.

Gant played hard, steady ball all season, but it was not until the Eagles KIAC tournament that the Cumberland Junior College importation really found himself.

"Unk" did everything during the four games played by the Eagles and did it well—so well, in fact, that he was unanimously picked on the all-tournament squad and classed the "Sweetheart of the Tourney."

B A S K E T B A L L

Before the curtain rose on the 1938-39 basketball season, Morehead was touted to have the finest array of talent and the best basketball squad in history.

But, whether it was due to cockiness, bad breaks, or what, the Eagles got off to a most disastrous start, losing three out of their first four tussles. It must be said in their favor however, that all of the first quartet of encounters were played on the road.

The Blue and Gold netters, potentially great, never reached their peak, but were good enough to win twelve out of seventeen shindigs during the regular season's play, losing three to out-of-state teams and only two to conference opponents.

In tournament play the Eagles won four and lost two while advancing to the finals and semi-finals of the KIAC and SIAA tournaments respectively.

LETTER MEN

Chiefly because they could not connect with the pay-off slot, from the gratis line, the Eagles fell before Western 37 to 34 in the finals of the KIAC elimination, after having dumped a trio of aspirants into the discards on their journey to the finals.

The Eagles advanced to the semi-finals of the SIAA's series of contests by eliminating Erskine 30 to 27 in an overtime period, but a withering barrage of baskets by Jacksonville's red-hot sharpshooters sent the Eagles to the showers 53 to 40.

Of the entire Eagle aggregation only three, Kiser, Ishmael, and Horton, are lost to the squad through graduation.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

COACH LEN MILLER

Coach Len Miller, the other half of that unbeatable Johnson-Miller combination, is not anxious about his proteges winning ball games, but what he is interested in is building them into good varsity material while they are doing their primary duty of making the upperclassmen better through scrimmage.

The Eaglets won four and lost five in a nine game schedule played with some of the best freshmen and junior college quints in Kentucky.

Other Sports

Overshadowed in popular appeal, but giving enjoyment to a choice few on the campus, are swimming and tennis. Morehead has no teams representing these sports this year.

Cheerleaders

Above are four reasons why Morehead has one of the finest rooting sections in the KIAC. Though they cannot rival Frenchy Hammonds in making noise, there is no one who has more spirit and inherent loyalty than this quartet.

COLLEGE

PRESIDENT

In the person of President H. A. Babb Morehead College has discovered a leader, a scholar and a gentleman.

PRESIDENT H. A. BABB

His "new deal for Morehead," begun in 1935, soon after he entered office, has proved very successful. Since his inauguration, two buildings and a College-operated power plant have been erected, the institution's athletic teams have attracted nation-wide attention for their ability to gain places in the win-columns, and his economy measures have put the institution on a sound financial footing.

A capable executive in every respect, President Babb has brought to Morehead College a steadiness of purpose and a deeper realization of values in education.

PRESIDENT'S HOME

BOARD OF REGENTS

HON. HARRY W. PETERS

The governing body of the Morehead State Teachers College is vested in a Board of Regents. This Board has final authority in matters pertaining to administration and general control of the college. The members of the Board of Regents do not receive compensation for their services, but they give untiringly of their time and talent in the interest of the institution.

We are particularly fortunate in the personnel of our present Board of Regents, which is composed of the following members: Hon. Harry W. Peters, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, ex officio chairman, Frankfort; Mrs. Allie W. Young, Morehead; Mr. Donald H. Putnam, Ashland; Judge W. A. Caskey, West Liberty; Hon. Ernest E. Shannon, Frankfort.

A Message to Students

Four years in college represent a critical period in the life of the student. This is the time when ideals and purposes are shaped; knowledge and skills are refined; judgment is seasoned; associations and friendships are cemented; and character is moulded into a definite pattern.

There is great responsibility on both teacher and pupil. Habits and concepts acquired in college are most difficult to modify in later life. It, therefore, follows that the college student is building a permanent structure. This is a sobering realization, for the demands of the future are exacting for the college graduate.

We must pause to think seriously about the nature and content of formal education. Much has been written about education, and there is much to cause uncertainty and doubt as to its real meaning. John Ruskin in another generation stated his philosophy in clear and forceful language as follows:

"Education does not mean teaching people what they do not know. It means teaching them to behave as they do not behave. It is not teaching the youth the shapes of letters and the tricks of numbers, and then leaving them to turn their arithmetic to roguery and their literature to lust. It means, on the contrary, training them into the perfect exercise and kingly continence of their bodies and souls. It is a painful, continual and difficult work to be done by kindness, by watching, by warning, by precept, and by praise, but above all, by example."

I hope that you have seen the nobler and loftier side of education during your sojourn as a student in Morehead State Teachers College.

The Freshman Class

The "Class of '42" entered college with the verve and enthusiasm most matriculating first-year students have upon entry. They experienced "hell-week," of course, wearing outlandish garbs and doing the absurd things "uppers" directed them to do with a paddle's shadow lurking in the background.

After a few weeks, however, when things had settled down, they elected leaders for the year. Officers elected were Charlie Thomas, president; Joe Lustic, vice-president; Elizabeth Blair, secretary; Ruth Hayes, treasurer; and Steve Sagady, sergeant-at-arms. Coach Bobby Laughlin was selected as class sponsor.

Top-honors came to the "frosh" during the year. Tommy Jean Kirk, Paintsville, was chosen as Queen of the Water Carnival; and Helen Holbrook, Morehead, and Chessie Hurt, Somerset, were elected as Varsity Cheerleaders. Louise Osburn, of Flemingsburg, was selected as delegate to the Mountain Laurel Festival.

Now that their "frosh" days are gone, they look back a little wistfully and realize that that freshness, that "greenness" can never be recaptured. Ho-hum, they're "uppers" now.

The Sophomore Class

Returning to school in the fall, presumably experienced and wise, the Sophomore Class enrolled 154 strong. At a meeting soon after enrollment Beverly "Jug" Varney, Williamson, West Virginia, was elected president; Bruce Rawlings, Sharpsburg, vice-president; Frances Peratt, Morehead, secretary; Betty Kirk, Paintsville, treasurer; and Tom "Red" Petro, Mt. Sterling, sergeant-at-arms. Dean C. E. Nickell was re-elected sponsor.

Living up to their record, established the previous year, the Sophomores again received their places in the sun. On the football field "Jug" Varney, president, ran across the goal line fifteen times to be the second high scorer in the nation for the '38 season. Rawlings, Walker, Gilliam, Williamson, Henry and Petro contributed to a successful season. On the hardwood, Jack Kirk remained in the lead as highest point maker in the state until the latter part of the season. Barr, Williamson, Walker and Kirk were the representatives of the Sophomore Class on the basketball court. Two of the cheerleaders, Mary Turley and Lisle Nickell, were Sophomores.

Joyce Henry, West Liberty, reigned as Queen of the Winter Carnival and Frances Peratt, Morehead, was selected as the most versatile girl.

As the semester ends, the Sophomores, versed in knowledge and the ways of the world, stick their noses in the air and say, "Juniors, watch our smoke."

The Junior Class

The Junior Class of '39 held two meetings before it could agree on its officers, finally selecting Gilbert "Moon" Edwards, Louisa, as president; Roy Bailey, Welch, West Virginia, vice-president; and Andre Smith, Hindman, secretary-treasurer.

During the first semester the class met to plan a chapel program. Bailey and Edwards with the help of others threshed out a convocation entertainment that many termed a "killer-diller."

The Juniors have had their share of honor students and are proud to present such outstanding gridiron heroes as Bailey, Rose, Radjunas, Robertson; and such basketball luminaries as Gant, Tallent, Higgenbotham and Stiner.

Near the wind-up of the school year, they met to plan a frog-fry and Junior outing. As is the annual custom, they sponsored the Junior-Senior prom, which proved very successful.

The third-year students are looking forward to their Senior year at Morehead—and predict outstanding achievement as such.

The Senior Class

"Parting is such sweet sorrow," quoth Juliet to Romeo—and it is with this sentiment the Seniors take their leave. We are conceited enough to think we will be missed—for we have had a finger in almost every pie!

Athletics—winning athletics—began with us four years ago. Among our football celebrities are Horton, Marzetti, Hammonds, Lowman, Kiser, Adams, and Fair, and on the hardwood, we have Horton, Kiser, Ishmael, and Fair.

Among the Seniors are the editors of the three student publications, the Raconteur, Lucille Basenbach; the Trail Blazer, Alton Payne; the Quill and Quair, Janet Judd.

We boast presidents of such organizations as the Women's Athletic Association, Beaux Arts, Campus Club, Phi Mu Club, and English Majors Club.

Harry Lowman was voted most versatile this year; Virginia Harpham and Creed Grumbles won this honor in 1937 and 1938 respectively.

Four of the Who's Who students were Seniors—Virginia Harpham, Christine Thaw, Janet Judd and Creed Grumbles.

So, another graduating class "says its verse and ambles off."

The Student Council of Fields Hall is composed of girls elected by their respective classes to represent the maintaining of an attractive dormitory and promoting high ideals of scholarship and honor among the students.

In carrying out its purpose, the Council has presented the hall with three original oil paintings of Stanisla Warnie and also two of his original water-colors, which are hung in the lobby of Fields Hall. The Council has provided a scholarship cup on which is engraved the name of the girl in Fields Hall who makes the highest scholastic standing during the year. Three other cups are presented each year to the roommates who are judged to maintain the cleanest and most attractive room throughout the year.

The Niwatori Club was organized in 1931 for the purpose of promoting social life for the girls of Allie Young Hall.

The club takes an active part each year in the Winter Carnival, the Homecoming program, and general compus activities.

The members and their friends have enjoyed such social affairs as breakfasts, tea dances, midnight feasts, Christmas formals, swimming parties, and dinners. One of the most memorable events was the trip to Cincinnati and Coney Island which the members made last summer.

Pledges are selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, sportsmanship, character, and personality.

Campus Club

The purpose of the Campus Club is to promote Morehead College and its activities, and since its organization in 1933, it has done much to further this aim. It has erected markers on the highway through Morehead, giving favorable publicity to the college.

In 1937 the Club initiated the Hog Rifle tradition in connection with the football games between the Eastern Maroons and the Morehead Eagles. Since the beginning the Eagles have kept the rifle in Morehead Territory.

The Club is composed of a select group of boys who have shown leadership, promoted school spirit, and excelled in some extra-curricular activity.

Orchestra

The College Orchestra has for four years presented concerts to audiences that steadily grew larger. The programs given in chapel and in the evening are consistently well received and enjoyed.

Keith P. Davis, Director

A high degree of careful preparation and thorough training are represented in the performances. The College Orchestra affords its members valuable experience in playing symphonic selections with authoritative interpretations. Each year a large number of selections has been added to the repertoire.

Its chapel concerts have been well received and appreciated, and its marching drills and spirited music have added greatly to the spirit and enthusiasm at athletic events and school affairs.

Choral Club and String Ensemble

The picture shows the Foster Choral Club and the Morehead String Ensemble in formation for the performance of the cantata "The Lone Pilgrim," a folk-cantata by L. H. Horton and B. H. Kazee. The cantata was sung in Louisville for the meeting of the Southern Conference for Music Education. It was also broadcast from Radio Station WSM in Nashville, and was sung in several Kentucky communities when the chorus made a brief tour in March.

The chorus gave two convocation recitals during the year and, as usual, supplied the choral items for the Baccalaureate and Commencement Programs.

The English Majors Club was organized to "encourage creative writing, and the reading and appreciation of literature," through a series of planned programs and publishing the student literary magazine, the Quill & Quair.

The chief project is the Quill and Quair, which is circulated among the students, and the prospective students still in high school. It is published three times a year, in November, February, and May. The English Majors' officers serve as the staff of the magazine.

Beaux Arts

In 1935 a group of students interested in creative art and art appreciation organized the Beaux Arts Club with Mrs. Naomi Claypool as its leader and sponsor. Since its beginning the purpose of the Club has been to instill in the students a love and appreciation of the fine arts and to develop and encourage the creative ability of its members.

This year the club sponsored a contest for the best designed and most original Christmas card, which was won by Frances Peratt. Other activities of the Club for this year have been an art exhibition in Ashland during the E. K. E. A., making and selling block-printed Morehead scarves and yarn football men, and an intensive study of puppets, under the guidance of the co-sponsor, Mr. Thomas D. Young.

Beta Zeta

In the fall of 1933 the Beta Zeta Club was organized for the purpose of promoting interest in the various phases of the biological sciences among those majoring or minoring in this field. Membership is now open to any student who manifests an interest in the Club by serving one year as a pledge.

The programs this year have been many and varied; interesting talks have been prepared and presented by members of the faculty and students. Some of the meetings have been devoted to moving pictures of various phases of the biological sciences. The Club members have enjoyed field excursions and social gatherings.

Kappa Mu activities this year have included a dinner honoring the pledges, a hike, a swimming party, pledge initiation, and business meetings.

The club is still very new, but with the development of interest in commercial subjects, it gives promise of becoming one of the leading clubs on the campus.

The Young Women's Christian Association, one of the oldest organizations on the campus, was initiated for the purpose of enriching the spiritual and social life of the girls of Morehead College. Vesper services are held each Sunday evening, and special programs are arranged at Christmas and Easter. Throughout the year banquets, parties, and other social activities have been enjoyed by the members of the club.

Each year at Christmas the organization brings joy to many needy children in the rural schools with gifts of candy, fruit, toys and clothing.

The Club is one of the most vital forces of the College as a means of building the character of the students.

The purpose of the Women's Athletic Association is to further the interest and skill of women in recreational activities and to promote those activities which may be adapted to the needs of after-college life. Since its organization the membership of the club has steadily increased until it is now one of the most active clubs on the campus.

In April the State meeting of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Athletic Associations was held on the campus for the second consecutive year. The activities of the club were brought to a close with the annual spring camping trip.

IMMORTALS OF THE LOST CAUSE

Mural Painting in BATTLE ABBEY, RICHMOND

In this great picture, General Lee is shown on Traveller, the horse who was his faithful friend and companion during the War and the years following.

Following on to the right, the man with the field glasses, beside Traveller is General Longstreet. The three horsemen next, are Generals Joseph Johnson, Pickett and Beauregard. Standing by his horse at the extreme right is General J. E. B. Stuart, the dashing cavalry chieftan of the Confederate Army.

BALANCE . . . in bank management

Depositors rightly expect their bank to be conservative, for the sake of safety. Borrowers naturally desire liberal policies which will enable them to secure funds easily.

Management must strike a balance between these two points of view. The degree of success it achieves will determine the bank's value to its community.

The management of this bank will continue to consider the best interests of all—depositors, borrowers, and the community—in guiding our services into channels of maximum usefulness.

Progress Marches On

When Morehead was little more than a settlement—when automobiles were unheard of—when education in Eastern Kentucky consisted of one-room schools, no colleges and few high schools, the C. E. Bishop Drug Company was serving the needs of a community.

Today, Morehead represents one of Kentucky's fastest growing cities. Opportunities here are unlimited. Morehead has kept pace. The C. E. Bishop Drug Company likewise has grown and now services this community's drug needs with the best products available in keeping with the most modern methods.
